FUNERAL OF LATE MAYOR GAYNOR

Large Concourse of People Follow Hearse From City Hall to Church.

500,000 ARE IN LINE.

Municipal Ferry Boats Stop Engines Five Minutes While Obsequies are Going on.

New York, Sept. 22.—Fully 500,000 persons along the line of his funeral march did honor to Mayor Gaynor in his funeral procession today. This estimate was made by Police Inspector Titus, when the cortege began to form near the City Hall.

The rain which fell heavily during the morning, had ceased at that hour, and thousands on thousands were thronging to lower Broadway.

Through streets wet from the rain 50,000 persons of all walks of life marched behind his catafalque from the black-draped city hall down Broadway to Trinity Church, while thousands on thousands of other mourners lined every foot of the pavement and stood uncovered as the body of the man who said: "I have been mayor," passed by.

Drawn by sixteen black horses led by eight firemen and eight policemen, the mayor's coffin was perched ten feet above the roadway on a giant funeral car, all draped in black, while the honorary pallbearers strode alongside.

Immediately following the coffin [illegible] pallbearers came various [illegible] officials and committees from the United States Senate and the legislature of New York State. These were followed by justices of a score of courts: Major Gen. [illegible] Barry, and his staff, representing the army; Rear Admiral Cameron Winslow, representing the navy, and representatives of the lord mayor of Liverpool, and of various cities in New York State. A citizens' committee, headed by Seth Low, was next in line, and delegations from hundreds of clubs and societies, and others representing the city borough and country, brought up the rear.

Hundreds of police, both foot and mounted, lined the route of the funeral procession, which left the city hall shortly after 10 o'clock.

Every head along Broadway for blocks around the church was bare as the coffin was borne within its wall. The services there were planned to last about one hour. At their conclusion the procession was to reform, cross the Brooklyn bridge into the late mayor's home borough, and proceed to Greenwood Cemetery for the interment, which was not expected to be accomplished until between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Apart from the funeral procession, honor was paid to the dead mayor in many ways in the city today. At 11:30 o'clock the engines on every boat of the municipal ferry system stopped for five minutes; from 11:30 to 12 o'clock every school in the city was the scene of memorial services, and for the same time the bells of the Brooklyn borough hall and of hundreds of churches in the greater city tolled a requiem.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Relatives of the Queen of Spain have been shocked by the news that the second daughter of the Queen, like her second son, will be both deaf and dumb, says the Manchester Guardian. It is feared that the little Spanish princess is totally deaf, and unless this can be corrected she will probably never be able to speak. The pessimistic report of the royal physicians and specialists have nearly broken the heart of the Queen. She goes constantly with her children to the convents of the religious orders in and near Madrid to ask for prayers of intercession on their behalf and particularly of late on behalf of her young daughter.

To be transfixed on a piece of timber when a barn in which they had sought shelter was blown down by a storm and then to be brought eight miles in an automobile pinned together was the experience yesterday evening of Mrs. George Sipe and Mrs. Harry Shenk, residing near York, Pa. Both women are in a serious condition. A piece of timber blown down during a storm entered Mrs. Shenk's left arm and passed through the abdomen of Mrs. Sipe, coming out through her back. The storm that swept York county yesterday was the most severe of the season. Trees were uprooted, houses unroofed, and barns leveled. Two houses near Manchester were carried through the air for several hundred feet. The downfall of rain was very heavy.

On Sunday night Charles Watkins, one-year-old son of T. W. Watkins, while playing with an air gun dangerously wounded Clarence Gilbert, 10-year-old son of Albert Gilbert, of Chelsea, Mich., last night. Edward Watkins, 8-year-old brother of Charles, shot and killed Harold Gilbert, 12-year-old brother of the Gilbert boy, Saturday night. The authorities decided both shootings were accidental. The shooting Saturday night was simply the result of playing with a loaded rifle. The injured boy is expected to recover. The fatal shooting last night occurred when Harold Gilbert failed to drop a piece of paper at the command ot his playmates. The latter, in fun, picked up a loaded pistol and Harold was killed instantly.

"I would not go through it again for a milion dollars. It has all been a horrible nightmare. I am glad to be wearing dresses again." Helen Hillsher, the pretty girl of 23 who masqueraded as a man for two years, in Meeker, Ca., and even "married" Miss Anna Slifka, thus expressed herself last night in the county jail where she is awaiting trial of charge of impersonating a man. Handsome Jack Hill, as Miss Hillsher was known during the months of her masquerading, reiterated her previous statements that she had donned male attire in order to earn a man's wages and gain enough money to assist her to a college education. She declared she still believed she was justified.

Lieut. Commander H. Osterhaus, of the destroyer, McCall, reported by wireless last night from Bridgeport, Conn., that three members of the crew of the McCall were drowned Saturday night off Bridgeport, when a cutter in which four of the crew was rowing was run down by the towboat Seaboard. Those drowned were Joseph P. Russell, ordinary seaman, of New York; seaman Alfred W. Sheehan, of New York, and Gunners' Mate Preston Scute, of North Mobile, Ala. Bridgeport harbor has been searched all day, but no trace of the bodies can be found.

Jacob Wolfsohn, self-confessed murderer of Anna Schumacher, 17 years old, in the Holy Sepulchere cemetery, at Rochester, N. Y., in August, 1909, last night made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide, Wolfsohn tore his shirt into strips and added to these his handkerchief and belt, making a noose with which he might have succeeded in strangling himself. He was discovered by a warden and his attempt frustrated. Wolfsohn, who said he made his victim's acquaintance by flirting with her while she was praying at the graves of her father and brother, was arrested in Philadelphia Saturday and charged with looting a Walnut street house to which he had been sent to clean windows. He had not been in the cell long before he declared himself to Capt. Cameron as a murderer

PROPOSED STATE HIGHWAY FUND

Increased Amount Assures Capital to Proposed New Road.

STATE TO GET $40,000.

Increased Sum Due to Efforts of Senators Martin and Swanson of Virginia.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The building of a state highway between Richmond and Washington now seems assured as the result of a conference held by Senator Swanson today with Secretary of Agriculture Houston and Postmaster General Burleson, during which he secured their consent to allow Virginia $39,500 out of the half million dollars appropriated last year to be used along with state and county funds in the construction of experimental good roads.

This fund is under the control of Houston and Burleson. An allottment of $10,000 was first made, but by continued urging Senators Martin and Swanson have had it increased to the $39,500 mentioned. Today's action makes the money immediately available.

Senator Swanson has been very active in advocating federal aid for public roads and this is probably the first installment of what Virginia will receive if the plan the Senator has in view is agreed to in Congress.

The money will be placed in the hand of the State highway commission and those who have control of the designation of state funds in Virginia to aid in building a road from Washington to Richmond.

SUICIDE OR MURDER?

Mystery in Wife's Death; Pastor and Woman Gone.

Parsons, Kans., Sept. 22.—A supposed suicide, possibly a murder, and the absence of a Methodist minister and the wife of a prominent business man, have caused the citizens of the town of Edna, twenty miles south of here, to hold a mass meeting and appoint a committee to enlist the aid the county authorities to determine whether a crime has been committed.

On Sunday, June 29, Mrs. C. B. Littleton, wife of the pastor of the Methodist Church, was found dead in a bedroom in her home by her husband. The body was hanging from a coat hook by a silk scarf. Mrs. Littleton had been in ill health. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide.

At a meeting of the church trustees soon after, it was decided to request Dr. Littleton's resignation. On August 21 the wife of a business man told her daughter she had received a message from Winfeld asking her to come there because of sickness in her family. Two days after her departure Littleton said he was going to Circleville to assume the duties of a pastor there. He did not go to Circleville and nothing has been heard from him since.

TAKES POISON FOR DESSERT.

Woman Commits Suicide Immediately After Eating Supper.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 22.—After eating her supper last night in a boarding house at No. 3844 North Reese street, where she lived, Rachel Cramer, 32 years old, left the others at the table and went into an adjoining room and killed herself by drinking poison. During the day she had given no intimation to those about the house that she was worried or had any desire to end her life, and no person could give any reason for her act. It is said, however, that for some weeks she had acted queerly at times and seemed to be feeble minded, and it is believed that she swallowed the poison during a fiit of despondency.

PETITION FILED.

Will Have Effect on Rates of Washington Utilities Company if Granted.

A petition, which if granted, will have effect on all the rates of the Washington Utilities Company between Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon, has been filed by officials of the Virginia Highlands Citizens' Association with the Interstate Commerce commission. A hearing is asked for when an attempt will be made to secure lower rates between Washington and Virginia Highlands. The charge is made that the rates between these points is the same as charged for a greater distance and that the difference between the regular round-trip rate and the commutation rate is so small that the commuter has no advantage over the transient traveler.

CHARGED NON-SUPPORT.

Negro Must Return to Bosom of Family or Serve Six Months on Roads.

Willis Richards, colored, was before the Police Court this morning to answer a charge made by his wife, Mary Richards, who alleges she had received no money from him during the past three years.

The complainant, among other things, said one of her children had been the victim of an accident and that she needed a dollar to defray some expenses in connection with the child's injury and that when she appealed to her husband for help he roundly abused her for disturbing his slumbers.

When asked by the court to give an account of himself, Richards said he was willing to take care of his children. His answer not proving satisfactory, he was told he could return to his family or serve the next six months on the roads. As he failed to say what course he would pursue, he was ordered to be locked up.

Later in the day Willis announced his purpose to provide for his family in future and was released.

KILLED TO END MISERY.

Exciting Burglar Hunt in Dark by Four Brave Bluecoats Ends in Tragedy.

West Orange, N. J., Sept. 22.—Two policemen captured a burglar Saturday night, found the culprit had been mortally wounded and killed him to end his sufferings. Returning to his home on Valley road at midnight, Thorwald Jensen, an Edison Works employe, heard strange noises on the second floor. So did his wife and she fled with her child.

Jensen took a gun from a closet and started up the stairs. But a crash caused him to retire for second thought. Four policemen arrived, summoned by Mrs. Jensen. Two waited outside while two others entered. They went up the stairs and heard those strange noises. Drawing their revolvers they shouted, "Surrender, or we'll fire."

No answer came, so the two bluecoats rushed into the pitch dark room. A blow from an unseen source knocked off Patrolman O'Connor's hat. As he swung his revolver it caught in his coat and was discharged. Just then the other policeman found the pushbutton and switched on a flood of electric light.

The two men looked around. They saw nobody. Yet pictures lay on the floor, flung from the walls. The policemen stared around again and the mystery was solved. Perched on a chiffonier was a wild duck. It had flown into the room in the storm and had imprisoned itself by knocking over the stick which propped up the window. O'Connor's bullet had struck the duck on the leg. It was killed as an act of mercy.

IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS

Additional Charges Against Governor Sulzer Are Considered.

LIBEL IS ALLEGED.

If The Court Refuses to Admit Sworn Expense Account the Case Will Fall Through.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Whether there are to be additional articles of impeachment against Governor Wm. Suler forced through the assembly under the party lash, hinges on action to be taken by the high court of impeachment, now in session.

Certain of the more rabid Tammany leaders have insisted that the assembly should act and further accuse the elected governor of libeling its membership and illegally usurping power. Others more conservative have opposed this, declaring it would be a confession of a weakness.

However, it was positively stated by leaders today that on the action of the impeachment court hung the action of the assembly.

Should the court, or even a majority of the appeals court judges, who are sitting with it, hold that cognizance could not be taken of the truth or falsity of the governor's sworn expenses account, the case against the governor would fall of its own weight.

The court of impeachment was scheduled to resume its sessions this afternoon.

Because he frightened a white woman in her home by his strange actions, Henry Crosby, a negro, was lynched some time during Saturday night near Louisville, Miss. Officers searching for him found his body hanging from the limb of a tree yesterday. The negro went to a farm- house Saturday and questioned the woman as to whether her husband was home. The woman says that when the negro learned her husband was absent, he acted peculiarly. She took up her baby and ran to a nearby house, where she reported the af- fair.

Will Davis, a negro, was lynched yesterday at Franklin, Tex., after he had shot and killed Rufus Dodge, aged 30, and Tom Reussian, and bad- ly wounded Will Maxwell on the Rushing farm, 10 miles north of Franklin. Hodge was killed first, following a dispute, and Reussian and Maxwell were shot when they at- tempted to arrest Davis. The negro was captured by a posse and hanged to a tree.

In a double line that never seemed to decrease in length as the day wore on, thousands of persons yesterday filed through the flower-filled rotunda of the City Hall, New York, and past the body of William J. Gaynor, lying in state. In the long line were street cleaners in their white uni- forms, policemen, firemen and men high in the official life of the city and State, but for the most part the pro- cession was made up from the great so-called middle class. About a fifth of the crowd were women and child- dren and many of the latter carried small wreaths or bouquets of flowers, which they placed near the coffin.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Woman Poured Kerosene Oil Over Clothing and Then Struck Match.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 22.—Becom- ing angry with her husband over some domestic trifle, Mary Street, colored, of 17 Hague street, Fulton, attempted to commit suicide at nine o'clock yesterday morning by pouring kerosene oil over herself and then set ting her clothes on fire. In prepara- tion for the success of the attempt, she had locked the door when her hus- band went out. She had been com- plaining of feeling ill, and he had gone out to summon a physician, ex- pecting to return in a few minutes.

When the flames burst over the woman and the fierce heat reached her flesh, she was in such terrible agony that she screamed, her shrieks being heard several doors away. Neighbors rushed to the house and broke in the door, and one of them, with a great presence of mind knocked her down and rolled her over until the last spark had been ex- tinguished.

The woman was in great pain but still insisted that she wanted to die. The city ambulance was summoned, and Dr. Cofer took her to the City Hospital. Her burns were dressed there and an anaesthetic was admin- tered to relieve her pain. Her con- dition was regarded as serious, and it depends on the depth of the burns, it was stated, whether she will re- cover. She told the internes that attended her that she did not desire to live.

BOY SHOT IN BED.

Children in Room Attempt to Shift Responsibility.

Newport News, Va., Sept. 22. — Mystery surounds the shooting Fri- day of Fred Clarke a 7-year-old col- ored boy, while he lay in his bed in Dawson City, with a broken leg. The boy is badly wounded and no hope is felt for his recovery.

The boy was laying in the bed, being confined there with a broken leg sustained Monday. In the room with him were his baby sister, aged 4, and a playmate, Issac Christian, aged 8 or 9. On the bureau in the room was a revolver about which there is some controversy,

In some manner, which has not been explained, the cripple was shot through the head, just above the ear, and it is not thought that he will live. It was found that the bullet had gone clear through the boy's head.

The wounded boy's sister told the Warwick county police that the boy in the room shot her brother, but the boy makes a counter charge against the sister. Owing to the ex- treme youth of both children little credence is given either.

Drowned From Launch.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 22.—By the sudden capsizing of a launch near Falling Creek, on the James River, Alfred Jones, of Raleigh, N. C., who has been boarding at 614 North 8th street, was drowned at 2 o'clock yes- terday afternoon, and his seven com- panions were saved only after a des- perate struggle.

is a sign of civilization. When people lived in caves has been appropriately termed the Dark Ages. Today everybody wants the best light. That, of course, is the electric. Better arrange with us to have it in your home and place of busi- ness. It means a brighter home and a store, office or fac- tory whose attractive appear- ance will increase trade.

No one was ever able to swim without going into the water. How is a woman going to know how to save money who never had any money to save? If more men entrusted their finances to their WIVES, there would be fewer bankrupts. HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind, Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suf- fered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but with- out success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as help- less as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bot- tles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

THINKS MINISTERS SHOULD WORK.

Deploring the un-Christian spirit of the present day in this country and the evils which, he claims, are rapidly asserting themselves through lack of knowledge of Christ, Rev. James B. Ely in his sermon yesterday afternoon at Lemon Hill, Philadelphia, among other things said:

"Much of the spirit of irreligion, is caused by the great mania for organization. Men must belong to political, social and beneficial organizations, until they cannot even go to church without first considering whether their society would or would not approve of it. A man is so much tied down by his obligations to his fraternities, secret and public, that he is no longer a free man." Giving King Hezekiah as an example of a true apostle of God, Dr. Ely said the words would be a different place if the priests and ministers did their duty. "Why," he said, 'if they would only get down once in a while and rough it, instead of going about with their hats, they would do much more for God. They should be made to wash dishes, scrub floors, and do other such work, and the people would have much more respect for their preaching. The faith of the people is growing weaker, and the ministers are growing more indifferent in their apostolic work, depending upon the superficial things and passing the collection box around to earn a living. I don't want you to think I don't like the ministers. I love them all, for their calling is a noble one. But I think it would be better for us all if we did more along the line of practical work and made the religion we preach a practical truth."

Whether the preacher quoted above has made a proper diagnosis of the case or not, it is a fact that the great mass of working men seldom darken church doors which is to be lamented, as it is evident that were they thrown in touch with religious thought, there would be less discontent and violence in the world.

Mr. Ely is correct when he states that men naturally have a tendency to fraternity; hence the increasing number of orders and unions in the world. The explanation is simple—in such organizations they are thrown with men they consort with elsewhere and are perfecetly at home. It is not so in churches—that is for the great mass—and many do not feel at ease under the present order of things.

ILLNESS OF JUDGE RODDENBERRY.

The announcement that Judge S. Anderson Rodenberry, Congressman from Georgia, is slowly dying at his home in Thomasville, will be read with regret by many outside of his own state.

Mr. Roddenberry was one of the speakers at the reunion of R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans on the night of January 19 last, and his speech was an inspiration to all present. Congressman Heflin also made a speech on the occasion which was greatly enjoyed.

They both made a number of new friends and acquaintances while in Alexandria, all of whom will regret to learn of Judge Roddenberry's serious illness.

KINGS AND QUEENS HAVE THEIR TROUBLES.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown" is an old observation, and some one has aptly said that it is impossible to build a wall high enough to exclude trouble. It comes to all, to the cottage and to the castle gate. A few years ago King Alfonso and young Queen Victoria were wedded, and while the marriage bells were ringing an attempt was made to dynamite the young couple.

They are now facing other troubles—such as often cast shadows in humble households. Their little ones are causing them anxiety. Their second son will be both deaf and dumb according to reports, while it is feared the little Spanish Princess is totally deaf, and unless this can be corrected she will probably never be able to speak. The realization of this fact has nearly broken the heart of the young Queen.

DIES FROM IVY POISONING.

Man Was Thrown Naked in Patch by Companions.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 22.—James Doyle, 38 years old, who was stripped by companions and thrown into a poison ivy patch at Windsor, near here, died Saturday at the City Hospital as a result of exposure and ivy poisoning.

Doyle, who said that he was from Providence, R. I., was found lying naked by the side of the railway track at Windsor 11 days ago by workmen who are engaged in building the structure of the new Loomis Institute, a vocational school near Windsor. Deputy Sheriff Welch arrested him on a technical charge of vagrancy, carried him to a nearby barn and wrapped him in a horse blanket.

When he had regained full consciousness Doyle said that for the previous 24 hours he had been sleeping off a spree in a poison ivy patch and had then spent a day looking for help. He had been working at Easthampton, Mass., he said, and had come to Thompsonville, Conn., with some strangers, he did not remember how many. They had had a number of drinks and after that all that Doyle remembered was that they had won a good deal of his money in a poker game.

The next morning he awoke in an ivy patch and found that all his clothing was gone. He stayed in the tall grass along the road all day and called for help to every male passerby. They took one look at him and ran. After his second night outdoors in the frosty air he crawled out to the railroad track, where he was found. He was removed to the hospital in this city.

CLOTHES POINT TO MURDER.

Knife and Poison Bottle Found With Woman's Outfit.

Port Monmouth, N. J., Sept. 22.—A long knife, the blade of which is stained, a bottle labelled "poison," half filled, a complete set of modish clothing of a woman, the shirtwaist bearing the name of Strawbridge and Clothier, of Philadelphia, all found in a deserted asparagus house on a farm here point to the murder of the woman who once wore the clothing.

The bundle of stained garments had been hidden behind a lot of barrels on the premises of Henry Coe, and a half a mile from the house where he lives. Mr. Coe and an employe, Walter Coggington, made the discovery. They at once notified the authorities, and County Prosecutor Applegate, at Red Bank, assigned detectives to the case.

St. Louis.—William Schmidt, a hostler, who fell heir to $100,000 left by relatives in Germany, will not give up his work, because he likes his employers.

Denver.—Mrs. Gertrude Gibson Patetrson, slayer of her husband, is reported to be writing in France, a book on love, as a sequel to "Flames of Love," suppressed by her attorney.

The Opportunity
The TEMPLE School
—OF—Shorthand & Typewriting

lays particular stress upon the fact that the success of a pupil depends upon the co-operation of three parties—the pupil, the teacher and the parent. Mrs. Caroline B. Stephens, the principal of the Temple School, emphasizes the fact that there is nothing more easily slighted than teaching. The pupil is not in a position to realize that he is not being properly taught. His parents very often discover it when months and in some cases, an entire year has been wasted. The parent should make it his duty to carefully select a school. Inquiries should be made to find the standing of the school in the business world, for every business school earns its reputation through the work of its individual pupils. Once a pupil is entered in a school, it is the duty of the parents to see that the pupil attends the school regularly, and that the work assigned to be done at home is prepared.

The Temple School gives its pupils the opportunity to obtain a thorough business training.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

In a desperate encounter with a negro convict who was trying to escape from the institution, Eli B. Stetser, a deputy keeper at the New Jersey state prison, was shot by the prisoner yesterday morning and died at a hospital some hours later. The convict, William Diamond, was himself shot twice in the arm by Stetser, and is now in the prison hospital. He will be arraigned on a charge of murder as soon as he is able to appear in court.

Senator James D. McClelland, of New York, is the Sulzer impeachment statistician. He is busily engaged in comparing the cost of legal talent in ancient trials with those of today. "The lawyers in this case," he said, "are receiving about $1,200 a day. This is $1,198.50 more than the immortal Cicero received per diem for his most important impeachment cases. He was satisfied with $1.50 a day, but the cost of living then wasn't so high."

Mrs. George Swarbrick, widow of George Swarbrick and a sister of Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, died yesterday at the family residence in New Orleans, La. She was 84 years old and was born in Westport, Ireland, her maiden name being Miss Bridget Gibbons. Early in life she took an active part in church affairs. Her husband was prominent in the grocery trade in New Orleans.

Lord and Lady Decies' hopes of a direct heir are again disappointed. Lady Decies gave birth to a daughter today at Sefton Park, Stoke Poges, near London. The first child, christened just a year ago, was also a daughter. The heir presumptive to the title is Lord Decies' brother, the Hon. Seton Robert de la Poer Beresford. Lady Decies was Miss Helen Vivien, daughter of George Jay Gould, and was married to Lord Decies on February 7, 1911.

Four girls who were to become brides yesterday were killed by lightning near the village of Nagy-Varad, Hungary. The girls were picking flowers to decorate the church for the wedding. They were overtaken by a storm, and took refuge in a grotto, which lightning struck.

Dublin's streets were again the scene yesterday of a battle between the police and strikers. Many heads were broken. Thirty-five civilians and seven policemen are now in hospitals as the result of the engagements, and many others were treated for minor injuries.

The Persian Prince, Abner Mirza, lies in a hospital at St. Petersburg with two revolver wounds in his chest, fired by his wife. The couple arrived Saturday, intending to place their son in a military academy. A quarrel arose while they were unpacking their trunks. The princess accusing her husband of wasting her fortune, grew hysterical and fired three shots. The prince asked that his wife be not imprisoned, urging that she acted under the stress of emotion. A police guard was placed at the door of her apartments.

Women employes of the bureau of engraving and printing, in Washington, backed by the American Federation of Labor, yesterday passed resolutions demanding a 10 per cent increase in their wages. On Tuesday last, the women stated, they were told by Director Ralph that the secretary of the Treasury contemplated paying them by piece work instead of per diem. They passed resolutions yesterday denouncing this.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Joy at meeting her father resulted seriously for 3-year-old Lillie Casquale, of No. 5033 Kershaw avenue, yesterday. The child ran to greet her father on the street, as he was returning home, and the parent gathered her up in his arms in such a forcible manner that both arms were fractured. The child was taken to the West Philadelphia Hospital.

SHOT WHILE PLAYING CARDS.

Woman's Husband Suspected of the Crime.

Shot as they were playing cards in their lonely little cabin at Stonehouse Cove, near Baltimore, Saturday night, Mrs. Ellen Gooding and Edward Carter, for whom she had been keeping house since leaving her husband, are expected to die. The surounding woods are being searched for Gooding. The man and woman were sitting in their summer kitchen at the time and did not even hear the assassin as he opened a window sufficient to put his gun through that his aim might be truer. Mrs. Gooding received the first load of extra heavy buckshot from a shotgun, and she fell to the floor unconscious. Carter leaped to his feet, as he turned towards the window from which the shot had come, he also was shot. He managed to drag himself to a neighbor's house, and police and physicians were called to the scene.

Early last spring Carter's wife died and Mrs. Gooding left her husband and went to keep house for Carter. Several times, Mr. Gooding tried to persuade his wife to return home with him, the last time being about a week ago, and when she refused he is said to have threatened to kill her.

STORM IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Torrent of Water Washes Away Graves in Cemetery.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 22.—The Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys were visited by one of the most distressing floods of recent years yesterday. Railroad trains were swept from the tracks of the Delaware & Hudson, traffic was tied up on the Laurel Line, an electric road between Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, and an old Jewish cemetery in the North Scranton section was invaded by a torrent of sewer water. There was a cut of several feet in the cemetery; coffins were exposed to the view of passers-by; bodies were cast on the banks of graves, and practically the entire cemetery turned upside down. The damage to raiload and trolley lines is heavy.

Shenandoah, Pa., Sept. 22.—A five inch rainfall was recorded here last night and today it still rained, breaking the severe drought which had prevailed the last six weeks, in which time the town and region was on a short supply and the collieries in the region hampered and almost compelled to shut down. This afternoon the rain came down in torrents for five hours. The sewers were unable to take the heavy waters flooding the gutters and streets and many of the cellars, damaging most merchandise therein. The large reservoirs are filling fast, and the residents are rejoiced over the rain.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 22.—Owing to a heavy rainfall in the east end of Northumberland county today a drought existing for weeks was broken, to the joy of the inhabitants, who had prayed for rain ever since many streams supplying reservoirs went dry, causing great inconveience at coal mines, while crops in farming sections were drying up. For several hours rain fell in torrents and still was in progress tonight. Water had been so scarce at some of the colleries that officials were preparing to haul water to them to keep up steam.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 22.—Heavy rains today, amounting almost to a cloudburst, effectually ended the long drought which has prevailed in this part of the anthracite region for several months. The streets of this town were turned into rivers for several hours and empty reservoirs were all filled up. A number of washeries, which were compelled to close because of the scarcity of water will resume work tomorrow.

Ashland, Pa., Sept. 22.—Two days of intermittent showers and a steady downpour for seven hours today did much to relieve the alarming drought conditions in this region during the last three weeks. The collieries were becoming handicapped and water trains were being assembled to be put in service next week. Service to consumers at Ashland and Girardville has been restricted to one hour daily for more than two weeks.

SEEKS TO MARRY AT 102.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22.—Declaring his age of 102 too great to entitle him to a marriage license, the register of deeds of Bladen county yesterday declined to give Joe McIntyre his seventh marriage license.

McIntyre has buried six wives, all of whom lived with him until detah. He quoted Moses, to show that his eyes were not dimmed nor strength abated. The register declined the license on the ground that McIntyre was of too great age to care for his phospective bride, who gave her age as 80, and has been married four times. The couple walked two miles to the town to apply for a license.

Senora Francisco Villa, wife of the rebel general, arrived at El Paso, Texas, Tuesday after a twelve-day journey on horseback from San Andres, where she witnessed the battle between the forces of her husband and the federals. Her little baby girl died the night before the battle in her home in San Andres, and she was watching over its body when the bombardment started. Villa did not know this fact, and was making every effort to raze the town which sheltered his wife and dead baby.
